

News Pictures

Keystone Jumper

Sea Tiger Kills Girl Swimmer

Dorothy MacClatchie (upper left) was attacked by a giant barracuda known as a sea tiger while bathing off the coast at St. Petersburg, Fla. Mary Buhner (indicated by arrow) went to her rescue and held her about half an hour, but Miss MacClatchie was dead when help arrived.

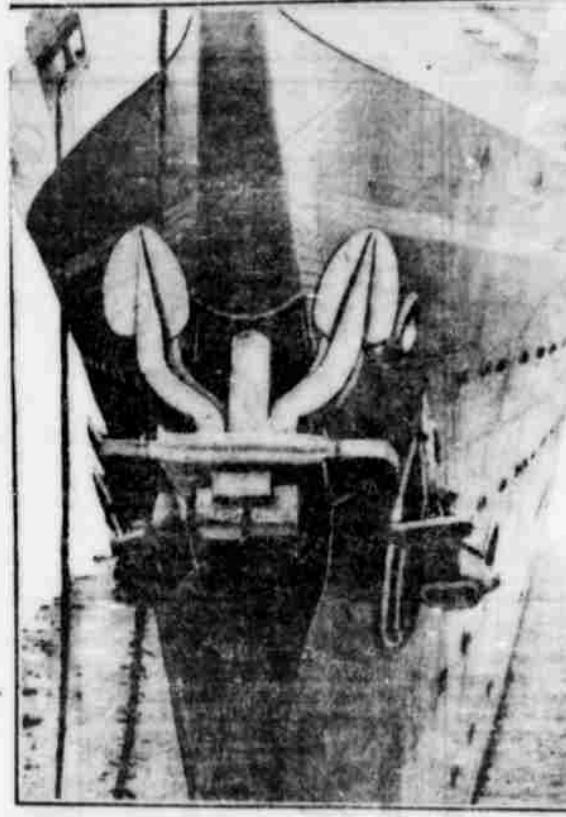

Catherine Dravis, exceptional high jumper of Scranton, Pa., practicing an athletic meet to be held July 10 at Brighton Beach, N. Y.

Safe

Bridie Gallagher, 2, and her dolly in Dublin after the trip from East. She's just one of the many Dublin refugees who are flocking to Dublin.

Not a Plesiosaurus—

—only the giant anchor on the bow of the Majestic, biggest passenger liner. But it does look like a prehistoric monster—or a preprohibition dream.

Wellesley's 1922 Oarswomen

The 1922 crew at Wellesley College. Top to bottom: Alice Little, Columbus, Ga.; Rebecca Davis, Little Rock, Ark.; Miriam Magne, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Margaret Brooks, Stanford, Ky.; Alice Richards, Woodmen, N. Y.; Priscilla Ladd, Bay City, Mich.; Elizabeth Hastic, Passaic, N. J.; Captain Barbara Bates, Binghamton, N. Y.; and Dorothy Bruegan, East Orange, N. J.

Gland Doctor

Dr. Victor Leppinass, gland expert, who performed an operation on Harold F. McCormick, harvester millionaire. The doctor smiles readily. His fee was big.

Harvey's Son-in-Law Indicted

Colonel Marcellus Thompson, indicted on a charge of conspiring to ship machine guns to Irish rebels, has pleaded not guilty to the indictment at Newark, N. J. Col. Thompson, son-in-law of Col. George Harvey, U. S. ambassador to Great Britain, is shown on the right examining a 300 machine gun invented by his father, General John P. Thompson.

All of This and Nobody Hurt

Thirty-three freight and five passenger cars were derailed, wreckage was strewn along the tracks for half a mile, but no one was hurt in this Central R. R. of New Jersey wreck at Bensenville, Ill.

A Ghost Story

Just before this building collapsed in Buffalo, N. Y., Louise Miller, a tenant, warned the 20 occupants to get out, saving the life of her soldier brother had warned her of the danger. The occupants left the building and none were injured.

First Time for This Since '61

For the first time since 1861, the president reviews military forces on the south portico of the White House. Five thousand marines pass through Washington on the way to Gettysburg, where they will re-enact that famous battle on the anniversary in July.

Ward's Kin Go to Inquiry

Mrs. Leland Stanford Wood, sister of Walter S. Ward, accompanied by her husband and Ralph S. Ward, Walter's brother, on way to court at White Plains, N. Y., where a secret inquiry into the staying of Clarence Peters by Walter S. Ward took place.

Red Chief

A. L. Rykoff, shown here, together with J. V. Stalin and Leo Kamenev, are said to be administering the affairs of Soviet Russia during the illness of Nikolai Lenin, Russian premier.

Affairs of State Not Forgotten

President Harding fishing with R. B. Crocker recently. Now it is reported Crocker will be named as ambassador to Mexico upon the recognition of the Obregon government by the United States.

Atta Girl

Leona Trickey, 22, of Oregon, twice winner of the Melvin trophy as the fastest girl Cheyenne, Wyo., has applied for a license as a jockey on eastern race tracks. She's the light weight, 98 pounds.

Aids Prisoners

Dot Brown, 16, school girl of Washington, D. C., is known as the youngest native charity campaigner in the United States. When she isn't studying, she's writing letters for funds for the Prisoners' Relief Society, which aids ex-convicts.

McCormick's Visitors

Guards keep visitors away from the ward in the Wesley Memorial Hospital, Chicago, where Harold F. McCormick, harness millionaire, underwent an operation by a gland expert. Dot Mrs. Matilde, his daughter, and "Uncle" Howard Colby, friend of the family, are leaving after a visit.

Ward's Brother

Ralph D. Ward was sustained in his refusal to answer before the Westchester county (N. Y.) grand jury questions bearing on the killing of Clarence Peters by his brother, Walter S. Ward, millionaire.